

Summer Program Opportunities

Below, you will find websites for colleges and universities offering a wide range of opportunities in summer programs. These experiences can help you to learn more about a field that you might want to understand better. They can also be a great chance to get a feel for one particular campus. Take time to explore what is available. If you have any questions, feel free to come and talk with your Counselor.

FRESHMEN (rising Sophomores)

The Future Latino Leaders Law Camp: For Latino students interested in Law careers application and more information about the Law Camp and student eligibility can be found on the website at www.hnbf.org. Application deadline usually is March 1. If you have any questions, direct them to Christie Lewis at 202.496.7206 or clewis@hnbf.org.

TIP – “Talent Identification Program” at Duke <http://www.tip.duke.edu/node/239> “Summer Studies” program for 9th and 10th graders; “Field Study” for rising Juniors. Duke TIP offers challenging educational adventures to motivated, dedicated, and talented high school students who possess a desire to learn in a unique setting. Field Studies: Duke TIP Field Studies are two weeks long and take place in U.S. locales or in countries around the world such as China, Costa Rica, and the Netherlands. These authentic academic experiences, similar to college field courses, allow students to take advantage of unique surroundings to fully explore the course material.

Center for Talented Youth (CTY) at Johns Hopkins - <http://cty.jhu.edu/summer/grades7-12/index.html> Program offerings range across many fields of study (see site for current year offerings): Academic Explorations (grades 7 and above); Civic Leadership (grades 10-12) - The Civic Leadership Institute is offered at site locations in Baltimore, Maryland, and Berkeley, California.( Global Issues (grades 10-12 – offered at Princeton).

STEM – Naval Academy sponsored

- a program offered by the Naval Academy for students from grade's 8-11 - "STEM" (Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics)

The TASPs (a six-week educational experience for high school juniors) seek to bring together students from across the United States and abroad who are not just intelligent but thoughtful, not just motivated but generous with their talents and energies. TASPers (as TASP participants are called) have a wide variety of life experiences, and come from many different kinds of backgrounds. TASP has a rigorous selection process and TASPers generally go on to America's finest colleges. Telluride Association hopes the TASP experience endows its students with a sense of intellectual vitality, interpersonal awareness, and community responsibility that will prepare them for leadership in whatever walk of life they choose.

Virginia Governor's School – Summer Program (open only to VA resident students)

http://www.doe.virginia.gov/instruction/governors\_school\_programs/summer\_residential/index.shtml

Summer Residential Governor's Schools provide gifted high school juniors and seniors with intensive educational experiences in visual and performing arts; humanities; mathematics, science, and technology; life science and medicine; or through mentorships in marine science or engineering. Students live on a college or university campus for up to four weeks each summer. During this time, students are involved in classroom and laboratory work, field studies, research, individual and group projects and performances, and seminars with noted scholars, visiting artists, and other professionals. In the two mentorships, students are selected to work side-by-side with research scientists, physicians, and a variety of other professionals.

Governor's Foreign Language Academies (open only to VA resident students)

http://www.doe.virginia.gov/instruction/foreign\_language/language\_academies/index.shtml Since 1987, VDOE has sponsored Governor's Foreign Language Academies, summer residential programs for Virginia's most motivated and talented foreign language students. As of 2012, more than 7,500 students have completed one of the programs. The 2013 Governor's Summer Residential Foreign Language Academies will include full-immersion academies in French, German, and Spanish; a partial-immersion Japanese Academy; and a Latin Academy.

2. PROMYS (started by Ohio's Ross alumni) (Program in Mathematics for Young Scientists) - running July 1 - August 11 - - offering "an intensive experience in creative mathematical exploration." The cost for the 6 week residential program is $2,700 (with financial assistance available). For further information: www.promys.org Applications accepted until mid-May.

Carnegie Mellon - SAMS

<http://www.cmu.edu/enrollment/summerprogramsfordiversity/sams.html> The Summer Academy for Mathematics and Science is a rigorous residential summer experience for good students who have a strong interest in math and science and want to become excellent students.

Students who are entering their junior or senior year and are considering careers in engineering, science and other math-based disciplines are eligible to apply. Students must be at least 15 years old to participate in this program. The program will focus on creating interest in technical disciplines and building academic and personal skills to better prepare you for the college application process.

Catholic University - Engineering New Frontiers

<http://architecture.cua.edu/summerprograms/experiences.cfm>

Engineering New Frontiers (ENF) is a weeklong, residential summer camp for rising high-school juniors and seniors held on the campus of The Catholic University of America. At ENF, students will work closely with CUA engineering faculty members to explore the wide variety of engineering opportunities in our society. Through classes, demonstrations, and hands-on experiments, students will experience what college engineering majors and professional engineers do. Living on campus, students also get a “taste” of college and exposure to the best of Washington, D.C., including special museum tours, sporting events, and various other safe recreational activities. (applications due early/mid-May)

Davidson College – “July Experience”

<http://www3.davidson.edu/cms/x3808.xml>

Get ready for college with a powerful summer academic experience on the campus of one of the nation’s best liberal arts colleges. Students enroll in two courses from 12 liberal arts classes taught by Davidson professors (see site for current summer offerings including neuroscience, anthropology, sociology, mathematics). Classes meet for 90 minutes each weekday, with possible additional laboratory sessions in selected courses. (March application deadline)

University of Delaware Summer College: For details go to

<http://www.udel.edu/summer-college> (Also open to Sophomores)

Denison University: The Reynolds Young Writers Workshop, now in its eighteenth year, is an eight-day residential summer program that offers a marvelous opportunity for high school students to work intensively with professional poets, fiction and nonfiction writers on Denison’s beautiful college campus in Granville, Ohio. If you’re currently a sophomore, junior, or senior, you are eligible to apply.

Our small workshops in poetry, fiction, and nonfiction give beginning poets and writers the chance to develop their talents and refine their skills. Daily crosswriting classes give exposure to all the genres, while group sessions with visiting writers and readings enrich the experience. There's also time to write individually and to meet with faculty one on one.

Please visit our website at <http://reynolds.denison.edu/>, where you will find full details about our program, photo galleries, a blog, and downloadable application forms.

Ohio State University: The Ross Program (mathematics)

<http://www.math.ohio-state.edu/ross/>

The Ross Program at the Ohio State University is an intensive summer experience designed to encourage motivated pre-college students to explore mathematics. During those eight weeks, students are immersed in a world of mathematical discovery.

The central goal of the Ross Program has always been to instruct bright young students in the art of mathematical thinking and to inspire them to discover for themselves that abstract ideas are valuable and important. First year participants take the basic course in number theory. For most students, this is the first time they are asked to consider entirely new questions, to develop methods that they have not seen before, and to justify every answer.

ELIGIBILITY

Ambitious pre-college students with interests in mathematics and science are invited to apply. First-year students range in age from 14 to 18 years old. Admission decisions are based on several criteria, including: the applicant's work on some challenging math problems; essays concerning the applicant's interests and goals; teacher recommendations; and school transcripts.

COSTS AND FINANCIAL AID

Fees for this program are determined entirely by cost of eight weeks of room and board.. (Some financial aid is available.)

Penn State: Summer Enrichment at <http://www.summerstudy.com/penn-state/summer-enrichment-programs>

The 3½-week Penn State Enrichment Program and 2-week Intensive Workshop Program offer students completing 9th, 10th or 11th grade the ability to experience the “beat and pulse” of real university life before they actually attend a matriculated university. Students in our Penn State Summer Enrichment Program and Intensive Workshop Program attend enrichment style classes with a heavy emphasis on group interaction and discussion-based topics.

The Princeton University Summer Journalism Program

<http://www.princeton.edu/sjp/>

Applications are due (usually about) February 20

“We welcome about 20 high school students from low-income backgrounds every summer to Princeton's campus for an intensive, 10-day seminar on journalism. The program's goal is to diversify college and professional newsrooms by encouraging outstanding students from low-income backgrounds to pursue careers in journalism. All expenses, including students' travel costs to and from Princeton, are paid for by the program. Students who attend the program come from across the country. (founded 2001)

University of Southern California

Summer programs offer a preview of “freshman year” through its college immersion experience. The program combines college level course work, academic field trips and structured recreational activities. USC offers 2 and 4 week courses in a variety of subjects. For more info: <http://summer.usc.edu/index.shtml>

West Point - Summer Leaders Seminar

Local high school juniors can apply for the annual Summer Leaders Seminar at the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York.

About 1,000 juniors will be accepted into one of two sessions.

The program consists of daily morning physical training, academic classes, intramurals, a day of military training, administration of the Candidate Fitness Assessment, a West Point tour and social functions. The academic program features workshops and classes from the academy's curriculum. All participants stay in cadet barracks and meals are in the Cadet Mess Hall.

Students must pay their own travel expenses, plus a registration fee of $350 to cover food, workshop materials, and West Point apparel.

Applicants must have PSAT scores of 60 or higher in most categories, SAT scores of 600 or higher in most categories, and/or ACT scores of 28 or higher in most categories; must have demonstrated leadership abilities, such as offices held in extra-curricular organizations, and must show athletic ability including endurance and strength.

The United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., is a four-year co-educational federal undergraduate liberal arts college 50 miles north of New York City.
